NEWPORT, R. I.—How the nation's foreign policy often hangs on the action and discretion of a naval officer commanding a war ship in a far away port was discussed by Secretary Daniels here at the opening of the Naval War College. He pictured the duties of the naval officer in the role of diplomat, recalled the incidents in which commanders of American war ships in foreign ports had opened new chapters in American history, and urged officers to train themselves in international law and the languages in preparation for such emergencies.

"If he be uninformed as to the requirements of international law, what consequences of evil may flow from his ignorance? If he lack tact and a sense of courtesy, how he may block the path of his country to serve the people to whom he is sent and prevent the opening of doors through which his countrymen might enter to promote commerce and forge ties of friendship and amity?"

Bryan's Confidence
There has been no secretary of state, Daniels said, who had availed himself more of the service of the naval officer as a diplomat, "who has shown greater confidence in his ability, his judgment and his absolute trustworthiness," than had Secretary Bryan.

The speaker recalled the demand made for a salute of the Stars and Stripes by Admiral Mayo at Tampico as an example of how the action of a naval officer in a foreign country precipitated "an issue not contemplated in diplomatic channels, and irrevocably committed his government to a policy of action in support of his demand." Perry's achievement in the opening of Japan to commerce, Dewey's brilliant victory and his administration in Philippine waters, and finally Rear-Admiral Fletcher's occupation of Vera Cruz were pointed out by the secretary as conspicuous instances of the double service required of the American naval officer abroad.

"There is a very recent proof that Perry was a true prophet when he foresaw friendship between the United States and Japan. In the present Mexican trouble the Japanese have been scrupulous to prevent the shipment of arms by Japanese manufacturers."

Critiques "Imperialism"
If all American diplomacy in the Spanish-American war had been modeled after that of Perry's, the secretary declared, "the United States might not have yielded to the temptation of imperialism. If our government had followed closely the diplomatic pact set by another great commander of the United States navy, who himself followed the diplomacy of Perry and squared his every action with the basic doctrines of our republic, we would not have strayed so far afield. We would at least have been consistent in our diplomacy; we would not have laid down one rule for Cuba and another for the Philippines."

"When you stop to think of it," said the secretary, "no representative of our government, official or unofficial, can command such respect or can impress another country so deeply with the power of his government as the captain of a war ship lying in the harbor, with its decks cleared, perhaps, for action, and its ominous 12-inch guns trained on the town. Believe me, gentlemen, that man is going to be seriously listened to by every official within range of the ship's armament."

BOY SCOUTS

COPYRIGHTED 1910

A meeting was held last night by the Maui council Boy Scouts of America. Among those present were Revs. Father Francis, of Paia, Father Athanasius, of Makawao, Father Bruno, of Lahaina, Father Ambrose, of Punahoa, W. F. Crockett, secretary-treasurer, Capt. Whitehead, and Dr. McLaren. In the absence of the president, Mr. C. C. Campbell, Father Bruno, the vice-president, filled the chair. The purpose of the meeting was the acceptance of Dr. McLaren's resignation as acting Scout commissioner for Maui and the election of a new commissioner until someone can be appointed to take up the work permanently. Dr. McLaren's resignation having been accepted, nominations for a new commissioner were in order, and the Rev. Father Francis was unanimously elected.

A motion was made by Capt. Whitehead that Dr. McLaren be tendered a vote of thanks for the aggressive manner and enthusiasm he has manifested in the Scout movement on Maui. Short speeches of congratulation in recognition of Dr. McLaren's work were made by the members of the council, and a motion made and carried that the secretary be requested to draw up a letter expressing the council's appreciation of the doctor's good work, said letter to be signed by each of the members.

Dr. McLaren in a few words thanked the council for the kind sentiments so generously expressed and wished the Scout movement on Maui every success.—The Weekly Times.

Fort Ruger lost a hard-fought game to the Department Hospital baseball team yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2. In the Kapiolani League the Kalias defeated the Moanas by a score of 7 to 5 yesterday afternoon in a game where pinch-hitting brought home the bacon.

It was something of a coincidence that two men were hit on the head by thrown balls in the Chinese-Coast Defense game yesterday. Lang Akana, in the third inning, started to steal third and was headed off. He dashed back to second and the third baseman hurled the ball after him to catch him if possible. The ball hit the left side of Akana's skull with a sharp crack that could easily be heard in the stands, and bounced 50 or 60 feet away into left field. Akana rubbed his head a while and went on playing. Later in the game O'Hara threw toward third to head off a Chinese runner and the ball struck Shortstop Hixenbaugh on the side of the head. He also kept on playing.

"Tuxedo is always welcome. A pleasant smoke, a mental bracer—the ideal tobacco."

HENRY HUTT famous artist
"A pipeful of Tuxedo puts new life into me. The mildest and purest tobacco grown."

GEORGE E. PHILLIPS Mayor of Covington, Kentucky
"A good pipe, and Tuxedo to fill it, and I'm satisfied. The tobacco in the little green tin has no rival as far as I am concerned."

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco —Why Not Smoke The Best?

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one.

But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke—in the BEST smoke, in fact.

Tuxedo is the best smoke because no better tobacco leaf grows, and no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original "Tuxedo Process."

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo Process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality.
